EDITOR'S LETTER

During your high school years many memorable events have occurred that you wish to remember and treasure. The purpose of this book is to preserve these happenings forever. This yearbook is a product of an entire class effort. Long, hard hours were spent preparing this volume until perfection was reached.

Throughout the pages is definite evidence of the development and maturation of our class. Shown are the great influences upon our lives school has made. And now that we have attained our high school goals, we go forward into the world and a new life. Wherever our future paths may lead us, we will always cherish our high school years.

Therefore, we, the Editors of the 1968 Lion's Roar, proudly present this Yearbook to you for your enjoyment and reading.

CHARLES N LaPRADE, Principal

To write that today's world is one of turmoil and upheaval would be to minimize the situation our youth face today. In my many years of association with young people, it seems to me that I have never witnessed a time such as this when so many complex problems will face you. We seem to be on the threshhold of a new scientific age, a completely different social era, and indeed vast changes in our entire geographical complex.

This future all holds great promise and excitement ... but as with any revolutionary change, difficulties arise which at times seem insoluble. To those of us in a past era, the scenes seem to be changing so swiftly that a bewildering procession of acts stream by.

Yes .... there will be challenges ... difficulties.... exciting ... breathtaking. It is indeed a new generation. We can only hope that we in education have assisted in preparing you to meet these challenges. We pray that you will face the demands of this new world. We fret.. and yet we have an innate confidence in our students and in our young people which makes us optimistic for the future. You are an important part of our life, and we must have faith in you!

Class History

As the autumn of 1964 approached, the allied class of 1968 commenced its long, hard battle through a four year world war. Ranking officers during the first phase of the war were Jane Holmberg, Neil Gibree, Francis St. Andre, Chris Smith, Reg Fisk, and Richard Rousseau.

Our first battle was the freshman dance held in October on Friday the 13th. Need we say more?

Our plan for victory was to overthrow the already established upper classmen. We began by infiltrating the members of our forces into the sports scene. In field hockey, Nancy Ela, Pat Adams, Linda Johnson, Lyn Conforti, Sheila Martineit, Janice Johnson, and Mary Mulryan spoke softly and carried a big stick. Andy Kelly, Les Fisher, Reg Fisk, and Jud Hunt kept the ball rolling during basketball season by constantly torpedoing the basket to blow apart the opposition.

As we neared the end of our first year of combat, we felt we needed a change of strategy. Our new leaders were Reg Fisk, Cheryl Merritt, Marlene White, Neil Gibree, and Dick Rousseau. Nancy Ela took over the treasury when Francis St. Andre deserted to the other side.

To boost the morale of the troops we held another dance which was attended mostly by Mr. Richard O'Connor's squad (who were promised ten extra points in history).

Half way through the battle we decided that we needed reinforcements and called in language specialist Rick McIlvain, "hatchet" man Gary Hall, Cathy Judd, and Marion Nichols.

We did have a few deserters such as John Brustlin, Joel Pasquale, Joel Phelps, Ricky Gardner, and Dana Strong who decided to make a run for it on the cross country team.

Our basketball players also enjoyed a little glory as they left Sgt. Ekblom to move to the front lines, amid the cheering of Susan Spiro, Chris Smith, Lyn Conforti, Linda Johnson, and Nancy Veshi.

The second year of battle was completed by burning down the barracks.

Our commanders for the third phase of our battle were Reg Fisk, Cheryl Merritt, Lyn Conforti, and Nancy Ela. Re-elected to the Student Council were Dick Rousseau and Neil Gibree.

Our annual quarters dance was quite a success. Approximately twelve members of our allied forces attended (half of which consisted of our elderly officers, chaperones).

In our third year of battle, we had two more recruits, W.A.C. Diane Willison and B.S.A. Lee Danielian.

In November the music portion of our battalion put on its first variety show. Our third year veterans who participated were Francis Tambolleo, John Mercurio, Dennis Deyo, Susan Spiro, and Marlene White. Master of Ceremonies Scott Williams helped to make the night a success.

The previous year's starting basketball troops returned for another year of active duty. Their month of pre-season boot camp proved to be very rewarding. The climax of the great season was when our troops showed their powerful skills to the opposition, Westboro, while winning the league title. After a crushing defeat at the Clark Tournament, we retreated to march through the District 3 and come out number one. To earn a little money for quarters, a candy sale was run which turned out to be a sweet success.

That same year of active duty, Commander-in-Chief LaPrade fulfilled his inner desire to become a traffic control officer when he announced his campaign to promote pedestrian safety for our troops by enforcing his one way traffic program in the corridor. This not only caused mass confusion for the regiments, but also put many of them in the brig.

The third year was climaxed by the Junior prom entitled "Aquamarina". Thanks to Cheryl Merritt, general chairman of the event, and many other hardworking platoons, the occasion proved to be a success. Lyn Larabee was crowned queen while four other senior girls took places on her court.

For the last phase of the war, the junior class regime again returned for the final excursion. Having faired efficiently in many campaigns, they prepared their strategy for a final crushing victory. The athletes of '68, although tired and battered, put forth their last bit of energy into the battle and came through with a remarkable performance.

To entertain the troops, a talented squad of actors, including Sharon Mercier and Dana Strong, put on a play, "The Perfect Idiot". The production required a great "deal" of hard work from both the director and the cast.

Other entertainment included "Ad Inferos", the Senior Ball. This event turned out to be a smashing success.

This final year of battle involved many conflicts among the troops themselves, but all matters were straightened out before we finally graduated into higher ranks.

During four years of battle at West Boylston High School, the class of 1968 fought a long and difficult campaign. Together, we overcame unsurmountable obstacles which will give us courage and determination in any future endeavers.

PROPHECY

Lightning and sparks were visible from every direction and slowly the world sank. Panicky people were wildly screaming; and among them Marlene White could be heard screeching, "What happened? What happened? Tell me, I want to know what happened!" In the background Dennis Deyo's Church Group, accompanied by the famous trumpet maestro, Jeff Hanks, could be heard playing "The Eve of Destruction." The cause of the world's destruction was brought about by some extraordinary experiments of David Wolons.

The Civil Defense Evacuation Committee, headed by Chief Norman "Bill" Stewart, ordered everyone underground, Chaos quickly resulted, but our Kevin O'Neil and John Mecurio, now full-fledged policemen, came to the rescue with their whistles and badges. Throughout the chaos, John Kim could be seen taking pictures which he said would go down in history.

The multitudes stampeded to the portals of the underground world that was to be their temporary abode. To their horror, the doors were barred and their admittance to safety was obstructed. This crisis was quickly resolved, however, when Lana Ciociolo and Diane Willison gave a call for help, now known as "the call heard round the world." Elizabeth Ahlquist and Craig Gallupe quickly appeared on the scene and speedily slithered under the door to save the world from their horrible plight.

When all of the citizens of the world slowly became settled, it became necessary for them to prepare themselves for a new life. First of all, a government had to be established in order to keep peace. The people elected as their highest official Reginald Fisk; and chosen as Vice President was Steven Quist, who was still fighting for the underdog. Reggie selected a cabinet which consisted of: Cheryl Merritt as Secretary of Communication; Nancy Ela as Secretary of the Treasury, and with her was her protege, Judson "Juddie" Hunt. Head of the Railroad department was Richard Rousseau; while the Department of Transportation was run by Robert Soule and Donald DiPasquale, who carted everyone around. Neil Gibree was selected as head of the Public Relations Council. Kathy Varner, very knowledgeable of law, was chosen as Attorney General. The Department of Physical Education was run by Kathy and Karen Leonardi, who were still opposing each other in every sport. The Department of Sanitation was led by Nancy Veshi who was assisted by Lynn Makela. The most important office, however, was the Department of Delinquency, which was led by the hardened criminal, "Opium" Den McCool. To judge the lawbreakers, Neil Beckett, Thomas Hayes, and Charles Coughlin were employed. The Women's Ward was headed by Gwen Arslen assisted by Darlene Lehman, and Eileen McManus. Pat Adams was in charge of stolen vehicles. As the crime rate increased, the criminals were quickly silenced by the deadly "Hatchet," operated by Gary Hall.

Under this trustworthy government, the community flourished and it soon became famous for its abundance in wildlife. In the local jungle we find David Lawrence tending his animals, especially those babes in the woods. Caretakers of the zoo included the "cool" Leslie Fisher in charge of moose and tunas, and also Richard Shepard who cared for the apes. Bulls were looked after by Lee Danielian, who, by the way, was also the local taleteller. Extinct Dodo birds were kept under the tender care of Stephen Dolan, and Ronald Smith could always be seen with his beavers.

A language barrier arose among the different races of people, and it soon became necessary to establish a school because of this. Kevin O'Connor was principal of the school and Robert Jacobson, under the alias of Jake, was vice principal. Millions of students flocked to hear the teaching of Dr. James Bonci who was most noted for his extensive lectures on Bailey's history. Professor of French was Janice Johnson who was also noted for her first hand knowledge of all events. Janet Webster was chosen as professor of English and frequently used her own edition of Webster's Dictionary. Ann Pratillo was made head of the Art Department. Among the brownies of the school were Sharon Mercier and Karen Bottomly.

Many severe problems occurred in the first year of living underground; mainly that of starvation. The National Supermarket, owned and operated by Bob McCabe was supplied by Marie Giobellina's Farm Products and Dairy Products, Inc. The Employees included Michael Berry, Randy Keith, Linda Johnson, and Theresa Meola, who were completely baffled by this problem. Deborah Goodness, Lillian Williams, and Cathy Judd, famed reporters from Jane Holmberg's national newspaper, stated that the cause of the problem was a blond named Judy Allen. It seems she had devoured practically all the food in existence, especially those hamburgers made by Michael MacDonald. A brunette named Carolyn Carlson also contributed to the problem as she had the habit of devouring hamburgers and french fries at Kemps after long extensive hunts through the community.

Buildings were to be seen popping up in all sections of the underworld. As a result of this, the famous constructor, William DePatsy, was kept constantly busy. A Home for the Aged was contracted by Bob Holm and was run by Judy Fontaine and Jack Bryce. New factories also appeared, such as the Scott Williams Firm which produced paper towels and the Sandra Almstrom Wax Factory. A camp for the youngsters was started by Diane Wilmont who was most experienced in camp counseling. Mary Jane Mulryan started a Doug Ranch.

Time progressed, and after a year had gone by, two distinct groups appeared: the Hippies, under the control of Joel Pasquale and Dana Strong; and the Hypo's who were led by Robert Rudman and Francis Tambolio. The two groups came to a clash and it soon became evident that one must rule and one must move out. Kathy Bohl, volunteered to see if the world up above was fit for living. However, the rules of her charm course could not be put aside and so she asked for male assistance. The brave and fearless Carl Bonci, Steve Carlson, and Thomas Hughes quickly volunteered for the job.

After the journey was completed and the world was found safe to live in, the Hippies made their trip to the upper world. Their world became one of giant happenings, especially at Joanne Durham's house. Kathy Leck, Jane Morris, Pam White, and Sharon Maynard were the life of these psychedelic parties. Card playing was prominent and the champion was "Ace" David Robinson. Enormous sums of money were at stake at every deal. Marion Nichols was present as a change maker while onlooker Greg Johnson always ran home and told of doings. The main hippy hangout was Spi's Donut Chateau, owned and operated by the toughened Susan Spiro. Vaughn Volungis, Lenny Thibedeau, Richard Cimato, and Michael Orne were regular customers. Thanks to the extensive efforts of Richard Gardner, the grass was always richer on our side of the world.

Parties were extremely prominent in this upper world. Sheila Casamasina along with her "John" sneakers, could be seen at a party given by Justice of the Peace Robert Bjorn. Denise Burlingame was seen running and screaming, "Wait, wait, Roger Waite!" It was too late, however, for Roger was last seen driving off in a Brian Ford Special. John Herrmann had been invited but could not make it because "the weather was too treacherous." Linda Batt and Debbie Goodness were able to attend the party.

Observing these incidents were Andrew Akstin and Beverly George who just stood by and remarked, "Very mysterious, by George!" The Hippies of the upper state and the Hypos of the lower one lived happily ever after in their own individual worlds.

Being of rather unstable mind and sickly student body, we, the class of 1968, declare this to be our last will and testament.

CLASS OFFICERS
Treasurer, Sharon Atchue;
Vice President, Catherine Stiles;
Student Council, Heather Graham;
Student Council, Suzanne Simon;
President, Christopher Salter;
Secretary, Deborah Condon

At the termination of our Sophomore Year we elected our Junior Class officers. They are as follows: President; Kit Salter, Vice President; Cathy Stiles, Treasurer; Sharon Atchue, Secretary; Debbie Condon, and Student Council Representatives; Sue Simon and Heather Graham.

Proving to be competent leaders they helped organize. and execute a successful sale of Zip Code Books. This was different from the normal Junior Class Candy sale and proved to boost our class treasury over an additional two hundred dollars.

During the basketball season we sold candy at all the home games. Immediately following the Christmas vacation we got started on committee meetings. Our Junior Prom, based on the movie "The Wizard of Oz", proved to be the major highlight of our Junior Year. Under the able direction of the chairman, Cathy Stiles, the evening of May 10 proved to be what we think has been the best Junior Prom yet.

Leading our class in sports were Tim French, Jim Larabee, Ed LaVigne, Ed Connors, Dick Butler, Bob Brustlin, Jim Carnes, Ed Parszk, Dick O'Neil, Gary Orciani, and Mark Fratantonio. For the feminine outlook on sports were: Sue Chapman, Janet Berry, Jane Marsolais, Sharon Atchue, Deb Condon, Della Leonardi, Paula Geier, Cathie Stiles, Chris Wilson, Gail Leonard, Linda Despres and Marie Cronin.

Many other members of the class were active in clubs or enthusiastic fans at sporting events.

With the successful Junior Year behind us we look forward to an even more successful Senior Year.

SPRING CONCERT 1967

Once again the Music Department presented its annual Spring Concert, the product of many hours of long, often tedious rehearsing and much practice. Naturally, Mr. Maynard deserves much applause for a terrific job.

Under the direction of Mrs. Marcoux, the Class of 1968 presented "Ad Inferos". The gym was decorated in the mysterious colors of the Underworld, with a red devil, snake, a gray octopus, and flames everywhere. Music for the affair was provided by the Commodores.

SENIOR PLAY

What we girls will do for a date

This year's Senior Play, "The Perfect Idiot," was one of the funniest, most successful plays that has ever been done in our school. The play concerned a high school star athlete who was in danger of being dropped from the team unless his grades improved. With the help of his friends, especially Dan Tennyson, Central High School is led to victory. The actors cannot be given enough praise for the wonderful job they did.

The cast and production staff were very cooperative and did an excellent job in the preparation, both off stage and on. Preparing the play itself took about two and a half months, while preparing the scenery, props, and costumes took about three weeks.

We are all very grateful to all who made this year's play the success that it was, and we particularly thank Mrs. Deal for her guidance and patience.

WORC GOOD GUYS VS. FACULTY

The West Boylston faculty challenged the WORC Good Guys to a basketball game at our gym. Sponsored jointly by the Varsity Club and Student Council, the full-house game provided money for scholarships.

Although the WORC team won in a nip-and-tuck game, stand-outs for the Faculty included Mr. Ekblom, Mr. Garofoli, Mr. McGrail, Mr. Perry, and Mr. Lane.

Here, you take the ball, I don't want it.

During the rally, the Coaches of the fall sports present awards to the players. Mrs. Marcoux introduced the cheerleaders for the coming season. The girls demonstrated a few cheers. The basketball team, led by tri-captains Jud Hunt, Les Fisher, and Reggie Fisk, was presented by Coach Garofoli. Mr. Maynard and the high school band provided music as the majorettes performed.

Without the members of the class of 1968 pictured on this page, the 1968 Lion's Roar would never be. Each committee worked diligently to produce their own section which contributed to the presentation of the complete history of the Senior Class and the entire school.

Many long hours were spent in creating this book, and the class owes a special debt of gratitude to the Editors and members of the Business Staff. But the man behind the scenes, our advisor, Mr. Begley, has given us invaluable help in writing and in organizing the product before you. Although words are insufficient, we take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks for all his guidance.

The 1968 edition of the Lion's Roar is finally completed and we feel that we can be proud of a project well done.

ROW ONE: N. Ela, K. Leck, B. Holm, R. Fisk, R. Rousseau, J. Mercurio, Dr. Cecchini (advisor), C. Merritt, ROW TWO: C. Carlson, J. Johnson, C. Judd.

The officers of the West Boylston Chapter of the National Honor Society for the academic year 1967-1968 were: Richard Rousseau (President), Nancy Ela (Vice President), Kathy Leck (Secretary), Cathy Judd (Treasurer). Chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service, the new inductees were installed at the formal ceremonies held in the early spring. All society members were honored at the annual banquet.

Along with collecting attendance cards each morning for the office, this year's members instituted a tutorial program under the supervision of Dr. Cecchini. Members of the society participated by donating their free periods to aid interested students in a variety of subject-matter areas. This co-operative effort between member and student proved to be a successful beginning for the societies new service project.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Piles and piles of work.

The Student Council is the only organization in the school with elected representatives from the five classes. These people are charged with the responsibility of initiating student programs and aiding the administration by performing a variety of functions. One of the most important functions of the Council is to co-ordinate a school fund-raising campaign for scholarships.

The annual candy sale was very successful this year and allowed the council to give scholarships to six seniors.

WEBO

ROW ONE: A. Butler, M. Condon, J. Wilson, S. Spenser, G. Hanson, S. Naylor, C. O'Connor, J. Shannon, M. Smith, S. Scott, D. Psota, J. Rowell. ROW TWO: J. Johnson, N. Ela, J. Morris, K. Leck, J. Holmberg, D. Goodness, C. Wilson, C. Judd, H. Graham, Miss FitzGerald (Advisor). ROW THREE: D. Lamberto, C. Cheever, L. Campbell, J. Rymaszewski, D. Wolons, A. Akstin, J. Kim, D. Eagen, C. Hjelm, K. Brustlin, P. White.

The six issues published each year by the Webo staff are designed to inform the student body of the activities and projects undertaken at WBHS throughout the school year. By comprehensive coverage of the sports events, club activities, and all extra-curricular events, the students are able to gain good experience in journalism while providing a necessary service to the school.

A good school paper reqùires a substantial cooperative effort on the part of many students. Several preliminaries must be engaged in before a good publication can be issued. In the fall the business staff recruit ads. The art staff and the camera men supplement work done by the reporters for each issue. The student body owes a great deal of thanks to Webo's editor, Jane Holmberg, for her hours of work spent to assemble material to make each issue its very best.

Each spring the Webo staff members attend a conference on journalism sponsored by the Worcester Telegram and Gazette. The knowledge gained at the conference has proven very beneficial because of its new ideas about high school publications.

A special vote of thanks to Miss FitzGerald our Advisor.

Personally, I think we ought to raise the price.

The Webo staff diligently at work.

That's right, you do spell Webo with a capital "W".

LIBRARY CLUB

ROW ONE: K. Bohl, L. Gustafson, E. Carlson, M. Nichols, J. Shusta, S. Sears, K. Leck, Mrs. Canosa (Advisor). ROW TWO: N. Lamothe, C. Wyman, S. Hillson, C. Cheever, M. Leck, J. Orciani, Mrs. Gagnon (Advisor).

The members of the Library Club work two periods each week in service to the student body. Active each day, members help students to find and check out materials. They also shelve books and magazines as well as repair them. Behind the scenes, the never ending procedures necessary to prepare new books and magazines for circulation keep the members busy. The new Independent Study Area which is used for concentrated study by individual pupils has expanded the library area and allowed more room for storing and displaying magazines.

Although meetings are not held regularly, officers were elected in the fall. They were as follows: M. Nichols (Pres.), J. Shusta (V. Pres.), S. Sears (Sec.), E. Carlson (Treas.), L. Gustafson (Decorating Coordinator). Thanks go to Mrs. Canosa and Mrs. Gagnon for their unfailing interest and guidance throughout the year.

You're not going to pay your fine!!

AUDIO VISUAL

ROW ONE: Mr. McGrail (Advisor), T. Scanlon, M. Scales, D. Whitney; ROW TWO: D. Mercurio, C. Fagerquist, M. Condon, C. Gallope.

Audio-visual aids for teachers are being used more extensively each year in various subject-matter areas. It is the responsibility of the members of the club to coordinate the distribution of equipment as well as to operate the projectors when a teacher so desires. The basic equipment used includes motion picture, film strip, and opaque projectors, phonographs, tape recorders, and an over head projector. With the aid of their advisor, Mr. McGrail, the members also take care of reserving movies and films for class room use.

This year the French Club explored various aspects of French life. A French play, "Turcaret", was seen performed by the Treteau de Paris at Assumption Prep. In November, five French students who were studying at Assumption Prep visited our school and discussed activities and customs of the French teen-ager. The traditional Christmas party was held in the cafeteria with a French and Latin program and two "Peres de Noel". *Mr. Boutillette, an apprentice teacher from Worcester State College, showed slides of his recent visit to France at the January meeting. The club voyaged to Fitchburg State College where they saw two French movies in February. The annual trip to Boston in the spring allowed members of the club to sample and enjoy true French Cuisine.

*As usual, the banquet style buffet provided ample refreshments and enjoyment for all in attendance.

Officers elected for the Cercle Francais were: C. Judd (Pres.), N. Ela (V.P.), K. Leck (Treas.), J. Johnson (Sec.), M. McKeogh (Program Director), and V. Volungis (Publicity Chairman).

Members of the club have all earned a letter playing any one of the Varsity sports; Soccer, Cross-Country, Basketball, Baseball, Track, or Tennis. Officers this year were: R. Fisk (Pres.), R. Brustlin (V.P.), and R. Rousseau (Sec.-Treas.).

Under the guidance of Mr. Garofoli, the Varsity Club sponsors the annual pep rally and the award assemblies for the fall, winter, and spring sports. The Most Valuable Player awards are also donated by the club. Each spring the Athletic Banquet is held to recognize athletic ability among the members of the student body.

These are future teachers?

Members of the Future Teachers of America all enjoy a common interest in the teaching profession as a career. Meetings are held to acquaint the prospective teachers with some of the duties and aims of the profession.

This year's officers are as follows: C. Merritt (Pres.), P. Adams (V.P.), M. White (Sec.), S. Mercier (Treas.).

As a service to the P.T.A., club members attended an educational conference at Anna Maria College in Paxton. For their February meeting, the members welcomed Miss Gamarche, kindergarten teacher in West Boylston. She presented the basic activities and duties of a teacher at the primary level as well as some of the preparation for becoming a qualified, certified teacher.

ROW ONE: Mr. Bouvier (Advisor), P. Adams, S. Martineit, J. Johnson, S. Spiro, N. Veshi, K. Bottomly, B. George, C. Smith, M. White, M. J. Mulryan, ROW TWO: P. Nickerson, J. Kim, R. Gardner, D. CAMERA CLUB

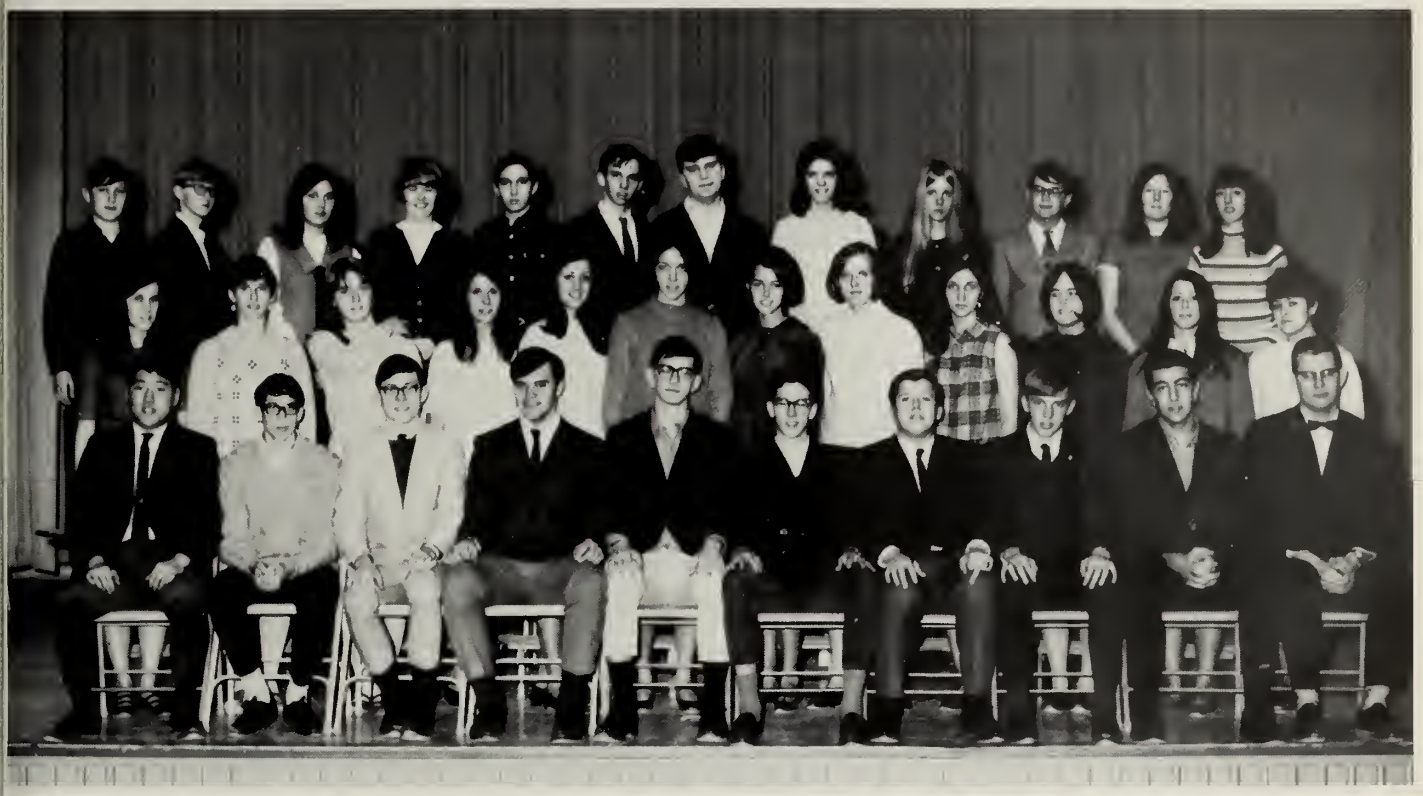
The Camera Club for the year 1967-1968 consisted of 35 members. The main objective of the club was to provide its members with a basic knowledge of the development and printing of film. Most of the members can take a picture, obtain a clear negative, and print a sharp photograph.

The photographs processed by the Camera Club are distributed to various sources. This past year they appeared in the Webo, the Yearbook, the Massachusetts Teacher and on the bulletin boards of various school organizations.

In the future the Camera Club plans not only to continue to familiarize its members with basic photography, but also to delve into the field of color processing.

Caught you this time, Pat.

HISTORY GOVERNMENT CLUB



ROW ONE: J. Kim, D. McCool, R. Gardner, R. Rousseau, A. Akstin, N. Gibree, J. Bonci, R. Holm, L. Danielian, Mr. Anderson (Advisor); ROW TWO: J. Johnson, B. George, N. Ela, L. Conforti, C. Merritt, C. Carlson, C. Judd, J. Holmberg, M. Giobellina, J. Johnson, S. Martineit, A. Butler; ROW THREE: D. Nickerson, R. Hoaglund, B. McKeown, H. Graham, T. Nickerson, M. Sclaes, D. Eagen, J. Rymaszewski, K. Bertelson, M. Condon, M. McKeogh, C. Merritt.

The History and Government club was formed in October as a merger of Mr. Gaumond's Government Club and the History Club under the guidance of Mr. Anderson. The purpose of the club is to encourage the study of history and current events and to develop a sense of historical-mindedness toward world problems. For the spring semester the club sponsored a guest speaker, Mr. Stephen Neale of West Boylston. They also held several discussion meetings concerning current world affairs.

All right, who stole my sword?

SKI CLUB

On their way to an interesting trip at Mt. Wachusett.

The Ski Club planned an active season under the leadership of John Brustlin (Pres.), Lisa Conforti (Secretary), and Cathy Stiles (Treasurer). A number of enjoyable and good skiing excursions to "icey" Mount Wachusett in Princeton were sponsored during the snow season. Bus transportation was provided to conduct the "pros" and all their equipment to the ski slopes many an afternoon after a snowfall. The caliber of the skiing done by ski club members continues to improve along with popularity of the sport (only a few minor accidents this year.) Thanks are due to Mr. Maynard for his time and talent so freely given to the club.

GRAPHIC ARTS

Members of the Graphic Arts Club gain practical experience by conducting various types of printing projects. By printing programs and information for various departments of the school, as well as for local community organizations, the club earns a small profit to cover the cost of materials used. Any extra funds are employed to buy equipment for the Graphic Arts Department.

The club members gain most of their knowledge about the printing field as students in either the full-time or the part-time Graphic Arts course. The extra work done provides a new interest area for the students while they perform a much appreciated service to the school. Special thanks go to Mr. Wilbur for his patient interest and instruction given so unselfishly.

These officers, along with the club's advisor, Dr. Cecchini, worked diligently to get the newly-formed club off to a successful start. The objectives of the club encompass the fostering of interest in the culture of classical antiquity. One of the highlights of the year was the joint French-Latin Club Christmas party which was co-sponsored by both language clubs.

CHEF'S CLUB

Perhaps you noticed unusual aromas coming from the Home Ec. area Friday afternoons this year. If so, you are aware of the newly formed Chef's Club which joined the ranks of extra-curricular activities at WBHS. Under the supervision of Mrs. Gagel, twelve young men have joined together seeking gastronomical pleasures. After a few practice meals, the boys became quite proficient in planning, preparing, serving, and (of course) eating their gourmet masterpieces. Special projects during the year included a smorgasbord, luau, and a special dinner for guests.

ROW ONE: Mrs. Gagel (Advisor), D. McCool, J. Kim, J. Bonci, S. Williams; ROW TWO: D. Wolons, R. Garner; ROW THREE: G. Johnson, M. Berry.

The Chorus improved greatly this year under the supervision of Mr. Herbert Maynard, and enthusiasm was the cause. The group performed difficult selections at the Christmas Assembly and at the Spring Concert held March 22. The repertoire included many a cappelle songs and also ranged from light to serious music. This years officers were: J. Mercurio (Pres.), J. Snow (Treas.), J. Larrabee (Publicity), and D. Deyo and J. Shusta (Music Managers). Accompanists were Carla Hjelm and Dennis Deyo; both again proving dependable and talented.

They marched first in the C.Y.C. Parade in Worcester and then traveled to the Univ. of Rhode Island to perform at the band day exercises. The remainder of the year's programs were pre-season Pep Rally, Christmas Assembly, NHS Installation, and Spring Concert. The dance band, which is growing in popularity among both the school musicians and the listening audiences, performed at various functions throughout the academic year. This talented group of musicians practiced once a week during the year to improve their repertoire of songs. The "Fall Frolics" variety show proved a good sounding board and demonstrated that all their efforts were worthwhile. Along with their performance in the Spring Concert, the band members, led by Steve Quist, and Jeff Hanks, planned to sponsor a dance for the early spring. We salute Mr. Maynard and his musicians and congratulate them for a "swingin" good year.

The 1967 Soccer Team, coached by Mr. Wills and Mr. Renzi, and co-captained by Jack Bryce and Kevin O'Connor logged a respectable 6-6-0 record.

It was supposedly a rebuilding year after losing seven starters, but due to the fine play of seasoned veterans with the help of a few new recruits, the Lions managed another good season. The team will be losing some fine players due to graduation; J. Bonci, L. Danielian, K. O'Conner,, J. Bryce, A. Akstin, J. Herrmann, S. Quist, S. Carlson, G. Johnson, and John Kim were the backbone of the defense and spearheaded the offense.

Robert Brustlin and Tim French will pilot the team next year.

The 1967-68 basketball season proved to be a highly successful one. Led by their coach Mr. Garofoli and tri-captains Reg Fisk, Les Fisher, and Jud Hunt the Lions ended regular season play with a fine 16-6 record, thus qualifying them for a spot in the highly regarded District Three play-off.

Getting off to a slow start the team dropped two of its first three games but got back on the winning trail when league play began. They won six in a row before a single loss and then won five more in a row finishing a close third in the Southern Worcester County League race. In the annual Clard Tournament the team defeated Oakmont in their opener then nipped Uxbridge in the semi-finals but lost to Leicester in the final game of the tournament.

Jud Hunt led all scorers with a total of 424 points for the season. Les Fisher and Reg Fisk tallied 310 and 186 respectively. Lee Danielian was a great asset to the Lions offense while Dick Shepard did a fine job off the boards and Kevin O'Connor, Dick O'Neil, Ed LaVigne, and Al Hunt gave the team the bench strength it needed.

The JV team had one of its best seasons ever this year. With a good 15 and 4 record, the well coached team also captured the league title by beating the Leicester JV's the last game of season play. The players deserve much credit and honor for their hustle and the do-or-die method certainly has produced a great team. Standouts for the JV's were co-captains Al Hunt and Don Sheperd. Freshman starters were Jim Moorefield, Ken Bohlin, and Paul Ciociolo.

The 1967 Spring Track Team led by co-captain John Geier and Pete Karras, and coached by Mr. O'Connor had a 3-7 record. Although this is unimpressive the team fared well in the important District Three meet. Rick Geier, Richard Shepard, and Ron Bohlin all placed second in their events and John Dylewicz placed fifth in his event.

Prospects for 1968 look very good with co-captain elect Richard Shepard, who was high scorer and placed second in the State Meet at Boston, returning to lead the way.

The 1967 Tennis Team, in spite of a 2-7 record, had an excellent performer in Glen Hermes who won 7 out of 9 singles matches and won the MVP award.

With some fine players returning, Mr. Pendelton hopes to improve his team's record in 1968.

The golf team in only its second year of existance has already achieved moderate success. A respectable 7-5 record was the result of the patience of Coach Foley. Having all members of the team returning again, Coach Foley anticipates a highly successful season. The nucleus of the squad includes seniors Lee Danielian, Dick Rousseau, Neil Gibree, and Jim Bonci; with Mike DeLiddo representing the Junior Class. With these golfers back, a winning season seems highly possible. Coach Foley thinks the third-place finish in the league can be improved upon this season.

The 1967 Baseball team led by seniors Phil Lagestrom, Dwight Howe, Glenn Parker, and Al McGrath, played some fine ball but ended the season with a poor record. Other members of the team were Andy Akstin, Ed Connors, Ed LaVigne, Jim Meola, Bill DePatsy, Ed Parzyck, Bob Caola, Chip Johnston, Tom Hughes, and Rick McIlvain.

Mr. Ekblom hopes to improve his team's record in 1968 with the help of some returning veterans and a few new recruits.

The 1967 Girls Field Hockey Team had a very good season this year. The girls worked hard to make up for the many ties from last year's record. The team was co-captained by Sheila Martineit and Lyn Conforti, and ended the season with a record of seven wins, two loses and one tie. This is the best record the school has had in the past four years.

JV FIELD HOCKEY

Kneeling: P. Geier, D. Condon, K. Vail, C. Morse, D. Huke, S. Jacobson, G. Klar, C. Bryce, M. Testarmata, K. Lovell, L. Conforti. Standing: Mrs. Barron (coach) B. McKeon (manager) C. Hebb, S. The Junior Varsity Field Hockey Team consisted of twenty-eight players, due to the large turnout of such talented and interested girls. The team, tri-captained by Debbie Cronin, Lisa Conforti and Paula Geier, acheived a record of 3 wins, 2 losses, and 4 ties.

The Junior Varsity team was co-captained by Debby Cronin and Carol O'Connor. Working hard and showing promising talent for the years to come, they ended the season compiling a record of 7 wins against 3 losses.

The 1967-1968 girls basketball team had a tremendously outstanding season this year. The team was co-captained by Mary Jane Mulryan and Marie Cronin. Mrs. Schofield, the new coach, who replaced Mrs. Barron did an excellent job of coaching the team. The successful season ended with a record of 8 wins and 4 losses.

Although the year was somewhat below expectations in terms of wins, considering the experience of the team, it can never be denied that the girls played the type of aggressive ball that could have reversed the score in many games. Mrs. Fox, who replaced Mrs. Barron as coach last year, did a fine job in teaching the girls the fundamentals of the game.
